VELOUTÉ KID GLOVES.

Never before has there appeared such a novelty in Men's Gloves as the new VELOUTE.

They are made from the best quality of real kid, and by a newly-discovered process the surface is converted into actual velvet, quite unlike the usual glace or glossy surface of kid leather. It is from this peculiarity that they are called "VELOUTE."

These Gloves are suitable for Dress, Walking and Business purposes, and are sold by Decision Against a Market Company. Yesterday in the Circuit Court—Justice MacAr-thur—the case of the Northern Libery Market Company against Geier was heard. This is a case of considerable importance, several other suits of the same nature depending on the verdict. The defendant in 1875 purchased from the plaintiffs the ninety-nine years lease of astall in their market, for which he was to give his note and pay ten dollars a month reat. The charter incorporating the company limited their life to twenty years. It was increased and their life to twenty years was important to lease for ninety-nine years was important to lease for ninety-nine years was importantly could not soll or lease what they did not possess. > McCullough as "Richelleu"-Jananschek as "Mary Stuart"-The Rennedys, &c. The engagement of Mr. John McCollough, se ously commenced on Monday evening by his masterly representation of "Virginius," was continued last night by the rendition of Bulwer's play of "Richelieu." There has been as much controversy over the proper presentation of the wily Cortinua as over many of the greatest Shakspearean characters, and critics and the controversy over the proper presentation. the greatest Shakspearean characters, and critics adjudge McCullough, Booth, or Barrett the pre-eminence according to their personal preference or individual judgment. In whatever position we may place Mr. McCullough, his carnestness, his vigor, his force and power cannot be gainsaid, and he must necessarily be credited with eareful preparation of the play and a close attention to all its details. There were passages leat night in which Mr. McCullough rose to a grandeur not deemed possible by his best friends. These bursts of passion showed by their force and yet their containment the improvement Mr. McCullough has made since his leat visit. He was ably supported. To-night Mr. McCullough will appear in Judge Conrad's tragedy of "Jack Cade," which was made famous by the late Edwin Forrest, from whom Mr. McCullough obtained it.

Last night the great tragodience repeated nor superb characterization of "Mary Sturst" at Ford's Opera-House, and the audience gave loud mani-festation of their enjoyment by their frequent and repeated applause. In each representation of repeated applause. In each representation of this character new beauties are discovered, and the perfection of Madamo Janauschek's performance is made more apparent. To-night Madamo Janauschek will appear in the character of Ludy Macheth, a part which was virtually without a representative after the retirement of Charlotte Cushman until Janauschek took it up. There should not be a vacant seat in the Opera-House.

Songs of Scotland.

After an absence of thirteen years upon a tour around the world Mr. David Kennedy, the Scotch vocalist, appeared last evening again before a Washington audience at the Congregational Church, which was well filled, with the members of his musical family in a well-varied programme, interspersed with anecdotes and sketches. Mr. Keinnedy, having sung himself round the world, comes back as genuine a specimen of Scotch hombande as ever, and he and his family—Marjory, Helen, and Maggie, Robert and John Kennedy—made it a charming evening of Scotch song. It is safe to asy that there is not iving another man who can put before an andlence the strong points of Scottish character as clearly as David Kannedy. He puts his whole Scotch soil into the work. He builbles over with Scotch wit and Scotch pathos. In his entertainment there is pleasant homelikeness, a charming informality, an easy dignity, and complete unity. The concert will be repeated on Friday evening. interspersed with anecdotes and sketches. Mr.

Chamber Concert.

To-night the second elember concert will take place at Marini's Hall. The programme has been most carefully selected, and the execution will no doubt be an improvement upon the first concert. The schilemen, composing this quintette are thorough musicians, each well known in his specialty, and the practice they have had in concerted playing enables them to furnith an entertainment of a high order. There should not be a vacant seat at Marini's to-night.

Madame Camilla Urso. This famous violinist will give a grand concert here on Wednesday, the 15th Instant, at the Congregational Church. Larceny in the County.

Phoebe Anderson, a colored girl, and her father, James Anderson, were put on trial in the Police Court yesterday, the former charged with the grand lasceny of $53.50 from William H. H. Hoover, a butcher, on the Biadensburg road, and the latter a butcher, on the Bladensburg road, and the latter with receiving the stolen property. Mr. Hower testified that the girl had been a servant in his house, and last Saturday she left, and the $63.50, all in gold except one trade dollar, was missed. Polleeman Stack, of the Second Precinct, testified that the girl confessed to him that she stole the money and gave it to her father. The father acknowledged receiving the money, and said he had buried it out in the country and on going to the place named by him, and digging for it, the gold was found by the officers in a tin can. The defendants were committed for the action of the grand jury in default of $500 bonds each.

Colonel Corbin, secretary and treasurer of the Garfield Monument Committee, acknowledged the receipt yesterday of the following autscriptions: Employees of the Baltimore custom-house, through John L. LOCAL MENTION.

The Importers' Tea Company, of Si9 Market Space, still continue to do a thriving business. A large number of our most prominent citizens have patronized the above establishment during the past few days, and all express themselves as being highly pleased with the tea and coffee purchased. While a good many purchasers, regardless of age, sex, creed, or color, received valuable sourenirs with their tea and coffee, which in every instance was as much a surprise to the purchaser as to the crowd of astonished bystanders, not a single complaint has yet been made. On the comirary, each and every one seems to be perfectly satisfied with the straightfraward and business-like manner in which the affairs of the importers' Tea Company are conducted. The management will not allow deception in any form to be practiced. All are treated in an honorable manner, and every one purchasing may rest assured that their chances of obtaining something valuable in addition to the tea or c. offee are just as good as their next door neighbor's. During the past two weeks hundreds and hundreds of watches were given away besides a great many articles of jewelry, such as diamond rings, collar-buttons, carrings, &c., amethyst, pearl, sapphire, cameo, and solid gold rings, silverware of various klards, including butter-dishes, goblets, napkin-holders, tes sits, &c. Also many cash presents, varying in amounts from $10 to $100. The tea, which is excellent in quality, is put up in paper cans. (1) pounds to the can, and solid at the uniform price of $1 to one and all. The coffee, averaging 314, pounds to the can, is bard to bear, gives universal satisfaction, and solis asme as tea for $1 per can. Step in and make your purchases. Next Saturday and Sunday's papers will contain a full list, with the addresses of those whom fortune has favored during the week with valuable presents. Watch for the list, It may contain the name of one or more of your friends. Orders by mail promptly forwarded to all parts of the United States. Cach should always accompany
